What is the Build Details Page?

The build details page is an overview of a specific build. This page gives you quick access to important build information.

The page is divided into several sections:

- Stages: A list of stages including 'Build' (12s 103ms, Stage Completed) and 'test' (33s 690ms, Stage Failed).
- Build - 1.0.0.44: The main section for the build details.
- Build Details: A table showing build information:

Property	Value
Started By:	davem@office.vsoft.local
Started	2 minutes ago
Queue Duration	3 seconds
Build Duration	46 seconds
Finished	1 minute ago
Version	1.0.0.44
- Unit Tests: A summary of test results:

Passed	Failed	Errors	Fixed	New Failures	Shelved
241	0	1	0	0	0
- Code Changes: A section for viewing code changes, currently showing 'No Code Changes were found.'
- Tags: A section for adding or editing tags, showing 'failed' and 'released'.
- Pinning: A section for pinning the build, showing 'By: davem@office.vsoft.local', 'Pinned: 08/05/2013 13:29:03', and 'Comment: Failed build'.
- Comments: A section for adding or viewing comments, showing a comment from 'davem@office.vsoft.local' with the text 'Todo: fix the unit test error'.

Unit Tests

The Unit Tests section gives you a quick overview of how many unit tests passed or failed in the build. Check out the Unit Tests page for more information.

Clicking on a set of unit tests will take you to that list of unit tests. For example, if you click on the number of failed tests, you will be taken to the unit test build page and you will see all the failed tests.
